Applications:

Hanbu Warning Labels are self-adhesive labels that come in a range of custom colors and designs. These labels can be used in a variety of situations and scenarios to warn people of potential danger or caution them about specific hazards.

Precaution labels are one of the most common applications of Hanbu Warning Labels. These labels are used to warn people about potential hazards or dangers in the workplace or other environments. They can be used to indicate that certain areas are off-limits, or that certain equipment should only be used by trained professionals. Hanbu Warning Labels can be used to create custom precaution labels that are tailored to the specific needs of your workplace or environment.

Caution labels are another common application of Hanbu Warning Labels. These labels are used to warn people about potential hazards or dangers that may not be immediately obvious. They can be used to indicate that certain products or materials are fragile, or that certain areas require special care or attention. Hanbu Warning Labels can be used to create custom caution labels that are tailored to the specific needs of your workplace or environment.

Flammable warning labels are a specific type of caution label that warns people about the potential fire hazards of certain products or materials. These labels are used to indicate that certain products or materials are flammable, and that they should be handled with care. Hanbu Warning Labels can be used to create custom flammable warning labels that are tailored to the specific needs of your workplace or environment.

Hanbu Warning Labels are made in China in a factory with over 15 years of experience in the label industry. They come in rolls and are packaged in plastic bags for easy storage and use. Each roll has a minimum order quantity of one, and delivery time is typically 4-8 working days. Payment terms include L/C, T/T, Western Union, and MoneyGram. Hanbu Warning Labels are certified by ISO9001, ROHS, and CE, ensuring that they meet the highest quality standards. The adhesive type is permanent, ensuring that the labels will stay in place for as long as needed.

The printed design of Hanbu Warning Labels features black and red diagonal stripes, which is a common design for warning labels. However, custom designs can also be created to suit the specific needs of your workplace or environment.
