Cafe Shop Application Food Label Printing Custom Coffee Packaging Label Stickers

Product Description:

Our Food Nutrition Label is available for all shapes, including rectangle, square, circle, and even custom shapes. This means you can fully customize your label to fit your product and brand aesthetic.

Not only is our label shape versatile, but it is also temperature-resistant. This high-temperature and low-temperature resistance make it suitable for a wide range of products, from hot sauces to frozen foods.

Our Food Content Label is perfect for displaying all necessary nutritional information, including calories, fat, protein, and carbohydrates. This allows your customers to make informed decisions about their food choices and helps them stay on track with their health goals.

In addition to providing nutritional information, our label is also oil-resistant, ensuring that the design and content remain intact even when in contact with oils and greases. This means your product will always look its best, even after being handled by customers.

Overall, our Oil-Resistant Food Product Label is the perfect solution for any food packaging needs. With its customizable shape, temperature resistance, and nutritional information, you can guarantee your customers' satisfaction and safety.
