Slippery surface warning tags:

These adhesive warnings are perfect for use in areas where the floor can become slippery. This can include floors in public restrooms, pool areas, or any other surface that can become wet and slippery. The Hanbu Warning Labels are waterproof, so they can be used both indoors and outdoors.

Flammable warning labels:

If you work in an environment where flammable materials are present, it's important to have proper warning labels in place. The Hanbu Warning Labels are perfect for this purpose, as they are highly visible and clearly state that flammable materials are present.

Adhesive warnings:

The Hanbu Warning Labels are designed to be easy to apply and highly adhesive, so you can be sure that they will stay in place. This is especially important in areas where the warning label may be exposed to moisture or other conditions that could cause it to come loose. Overall, the Hanbu Warning Labels are a versatile and effective way to warn people about potential hazards in a variety of settings.

Whether you need to warn about slippery surfaces, flammable materials, or anything else, these labels are the perfect choice.
